* Complete step 3 below to confirm your eligibility to contribute. If you intend to claim a tax deduction for your personal contributions, please complete a Notice of Intention to Claim a Tax Deduction form available from the Qudos website or on request by contacting 1300 721 720. Unless such a claim is made and accepted by us, the contributions will be treated as after tax (non-concessional) contributions.

 Contributions from your spouse can only be made if you are aged 70 or less and, if you have reached age 65, you have worked at least 40 hours in a period of not more than 30 consecutive days in the current financial year. If a spouse contribution is nominated here, by signing this form you declare that you satisfy these requirements. If your spouse is making contributions for you with a view to receiving a tax offset, please check eligibility by going to www.ato.gov.au or seeking appropriate advice. For a contributing spouse to qualify for a spouse contributions tax offset, eligibility criteria must be met. Our acceptance of a contribution for you from your spouse does not mean that the tax offset applies.

Step 3 - Eligibility to contribute - personal contributions

To be able to make voluntary personal contributions, you must meet one of the eligibility criteria under superannuation laws. Contribution limits apply for taxation purposes. If the limits are exceeded, extra tax will apply.

To confirm that you are eligible to contribute, please mark the box below that describes your current circumstances:

I am under the age of 65.

I have reached age 65 but am not yet 75 and I have worked at least 40 hours in a period of not more than 30 consecutive days in the current financial year (the Work Test).

I have reached age 65 but am not yet 75 and are relying on the Work Test Exemption which allows me to make voluntary contributions for 12 months following the end of the financial year in which I last met the Work Test.

Please contact Qudos Super immediately if your circumstances change.

Note: If you are aged 65 or over, and wish to continue making personal contributions into your account each financial year, you will be required to complete a new Superannuation Contribution Eligibility Declaration form before the first contribution is made each year.
